Broad Guidelines for the Assignment and question paper based evaluation

The assignment should not be too big or too small, may be around 15- 20 pages. Wherever it is mandatory the relevant tables, figures and formulas may be included. The supervisor will have a freedom to decide the actual structure of the assignment. However broad guidelines are given for better readability, quality and standard of the research work.

The students have to write an assignment for paper III and paper IV as a part of the internal assessment of Ph.D. course work.

The Assignment for paper III should consists of

- Introduction
- Basic principles
- Various applications
- Criteria for selection of the topic
- Any other relevant matter related to the subject
- References

The Assignment for paper IV should consists of

- Introduction to the topic of research
- Literature related to the topic either through advanced books/papers
- Study of existing problems in the research domain
- Study of objectives of the work with importance and applications
- Study of methodology applied in the existing research work
- Expected results or outcomes
- References
